

Figure S7: Relative feature importance across all analyses with eight different seeds for each model / algorithm combination. Above each plot the algorithm, the commensal measurement, and the type of predicted variables are indicated. The strains are ordered according to the median of their relative importance across the eight seeds for each model / algorithm combination. Abbreviations: RF, random forest; GLMNet, elastic-net regularized generalized linear models.