

Assignment week 3 - Data Flow Map - Reflection

Explanation

[Note: this document contains the text and structure as it appears on the learning platform Brightspace]

You will have to prepare and submit a slide about:

- Which data flow map theme challenged you the most? And why?
- What theme (from the data flow map) challenged you the least because you were already implementing RDM best practices before this course? If any.
- What RDM best practice have you already started implementing in your daily practice during the course?
- If you haven't implemented anything yet, what will you get started with tomorrow after the course ends?

When we meet in the virtual class, we will have an activity in breakout rooms where you will have the opportunity to present this slide to the members of your group.

You will have 2 min to present your slide to your peers and they will have the chance to ask questions or exchange ideas.
