TREASURER'S STATEMENT FOR 1910-11.

I beg to submit to the Society my accounts for the year 1910, which have been duly audited.

The Balance in the Bank is only a pound or two higher than last year in spite of the fact that the receipts include the triennial payment of £50 from the Clarendon Press. This is principally due to an exceptionally high payment to Messrs. Austin Brothers for printing the Society's Transactions, but there has been some shrinkage in the subscriptions, and it is to be hoped that Members will try to spread a knowledge of the privileges given by the Society & so increase the membership.

The number of members, 89, is made up as follows: Honorary Members, 7; Life Members, 24; and Ordinary Members, 58.

The importance of adding to the membership of the Society is so strongly felt by the Council that they have suspended for the present the By-law which imposes an entrance-fee of one guinea.

TREASURER'S REPORT FOR 1911-12.

I have the honour to report that the Philological Society now consists of 95 Members, of whom 5 are honorary and 19 have paid the life composition. As a result of a circular sent out in 1912, the numbers are now as high as they were at the time of Dr. Furnivall's death. We have to lament an irreparable loss in the death of one of our Vice-Presidents, the Rev. Prof. Skeat, who had been a member of the Society since 1863, and whose services to Philology in general and to the Society in particular can hardly be exaggerated. I also regret to have to mention the deaths of Mr. Donald Ferguson and Mr. C. R. Hodgson. Two members have retired, Prof. Robertson and Miss Spurgeon. The Balance at the Bank was £164 7s. 9d. at the end of 1911, and £210 10s. at the end of 1912, an increase chiefly due to the sum of £37 18s. 6d. paid as balance due to us from Messrs. Kegan Paul & Co., when that firm amalgamated with that of Messrs. George Routledge & Sons.
