

the Bible on the Subject and the Influence of Such a Doctrine on the Present Life”.

Perhaps the author does not claim as much for the doctrine from the Old Testament and from the teaching of Christ as the evidence in the case would warrant, but his discussion is one of the best in this admirable volume of timely, scholarly and conservative discourses.

Bible Truths Through Eye and Ear.

By Rev. Gorge V. Reichel, A.M., Ph.D. Thos. Waittaker, New York. Price $1.00 net.

Education by the use of the concrete is a well-established pedagogical law.

Dr. Reichel has carried out this principle in a timely volume of 50 chapters and 437 pages. While the selection and treatment of the topics are especially applicable to the young, still persons of maturity and culture will find ample reward in a careful perusal of the varied contents. Such topics are discussed as easily lend themselves to concrete treatment. At the beginning of each lecture the illustrative object is named, the best use of the blackboard is indicated and appropriate references to the “New International Encyclopedia” and other standard works are given, followed by a scriptural quotation.

A wide range of information is made tributary to the discussion of each topic and the moral and spiritual application is pointed out. The style is clear and strong and the graphic presentation of the themes suggestive and informing to teachers of Christian truth.

Huck's Synopsis of the First Three Gospels Arranged for English Readers.

By Ross L. Finney. Jennings & Graham, Cincinnati, 1907. Price $1.00 net.

If one cannot manage Huck's Greek Synopsis, this volume will be handy. The agreement between the Synoptic Gospels is thus brought out more sharply. But one cannot justly set aside John's Gospel in a Harmony save tentatively, for John has to be reckoned with, whatever some critics may say. But this book has a real service and is useful for its purpose.

The Messages of Jesus According to the Gospel of John.

By J. S. Riggs, D. D., Professor of Biblical Criticisms in Auburn Theological Seminary, New York. Chas. Scribner's Sons, 1907. Pages 374.

We have here Vol. X in the Messages of the Bible Series of Drs. Sanders and Kent. Dr. Riggs has given 71 pages to the many interesting problems that confront us in the Fourth Gospel. He speaks wisely and with comprehensive knowledge on these matters and in short space gives the average reader the main points necessary to the study of the book. Dr. Riggs holds to the Johannine authorship and has good reasons for his position. The bulk of the volume is devoted to outline and paraphrase. The volume is very timely just now as the Sunday school lessons have aroused fresh interest in John's Gospel.
