

Sayings of Our Savior. Selected from the Four Gospels.

Henry Altemus Co., Philadelphia. 1907. Price, 50 cents.

This little volume belongs to the Waistcoat Pocket Classics. They do not give all the words of Jesus, but only a few of the most momentous. The little book is bound in limp lambskin and is a handy gift book.

A. T. ROBERTSON.

The Sweet Story of Old.

By Mrs. L. Haskell. With an Introduction by the Ven. Archdeacon Farrar. Thirty-three illustrations. Henry Altemus Company, Philadelphia. Pages, 123.

This book is a reprint of a very excellent Life of Christ for small children. The colored pictures are attractive and the narrative is told with simplicity and directness, a thing not always true of such books.

A. T. ROBERTSON.

III. MISSIONS.

The Church of Christ in Japan. A Course of Lectures.

By William M. Imbrie, D.D. The Westminster Press, Philadelphia. Pages, 122. Price, 75 cents net.

There are four of the lectures, giving a full outline of the rise and position of "The Church of Christ in Japan" and constituting an interesting study in organic union of denominations. The present case of union does not constitute an example of the rise of a native church from the demand for freedom on the part of native converts nor yet of union by reversion to the New Testament type. These are the two principles that must be most effective in bringing about any desirable or permanent union of the sects of Christendom. The first of these plays a part, but not the chief part, in the rise of this united "church". Union will not come by leaders saying, "Go to, let us unite our churches and form one Church of Christ". Dr. Imbrie has given us an interesting and suggestive study. It contains much of general interest affecting Japan and Japanese missions. There are some wise words about