

At the close of each chapter there are "Theses", "Topics for further Study" and "Books of Reference."

The aim of the author is to secure a true symmetry in educational work and the continued co-operation of the home and the school in the development of the individual for his greatest achievement in the educational, social, economic, and moral spheres of human activity.

The Adult Bible Class. By W. C. Pearce, Superintendent of the Adult Department of the International Sunday School Association, Philadelphia, The Westminster Press.

This is a neat booklet of 87 pages, devoted to a clear and vigorous presentation of adult work in the Sunday School. In brief space we can give no better idea of the work than is indicated by the Table of Contents:—The Adult Bible Class Movement, Class Organization, How to Organize, The Class Constitution, Duties of Class Officers and Committees, Class Meetings, Class Activities, and Appendix—Samples of Printed Matter.

The "How" Book. By Marshall A. Hudson, Sunday School Times Co., Philadelphia. Price 50 cents.

These are suggestive and helpful booklets on the organized Adult Bible Class Movement. Mr. Hudson tells in a simple inspiring way about the origin and history of the Baraca Class under the fascinating title:—"How" to Reach Men; "How" to Hold men; "How" to Teach Men; "How" it has been Done.

He has rendered a valuable service to the Sunday School as an inspiring leader of a great religious movement, and this timely volume will be welcomed by all who desire a thorough acquaintance with men's organized Bible classes. Mr. Trumbell, editor of the Sunday School Times, writes the Introduction giving a glimpse into the private life of Mr. Hudson and portraying distinct stages of the movement.
