

that crisis, one could hardly expect that high level of interest to be maintained through the last two hundred pages. But the condensed reflections in chaste, religious English on such themes as God, Christ, the soul, the indestructibility of life, life as a probation, atonement, love and truth, faith and knowledge, character and conviction, immortality, etc., make highly interesting and suggestive reading. The best feature of these reflections is the emphasis put on some of the central religious verities, as, the Person of Christ, and the value of a childlike trust in God, as against the superficialities of mere ecclesiasticism; the weakest feature is the hesitancy and uncertainty about personal immortality. The writer does not surely realize the historicity and meaning of the resurrection of Christ. That fact meant certainty and exaltation to apostles. It should mean no less to us.

Baylor Bible School Lectures.

By Chas. B. Williams, A.B., B.D.

This pamphlet of 60 pages contains four lectures delivered at the Baylor Mid-Winter School last January. The topics are, "The Holy Spirit as Related to the Word"; "The Holy Spirit as Related to the Worker"; "Jesus' Method of Interpreting Parables", and "Parables Concerning Money".

The lectures are popular, clear, judicious. For Sunday school teachers and other Christian workers who desire fitness for service these would be helpful as sensible discussions in small compass of important practical themes.
