How the World is Clothed. By Frank George Carpenter. American Book Co., Cincinnati and New York, 1908. Pages 340. Price $1.25.

Mr. Carpenter has made a very readable and interesting volume just about clothes, how they are made, where they are made, what sort of stuff they are made of, etc. The pictures add greatly to the interest of the volume.

Avesta Eschatology Compared with the Books of Daniel and Revelations. By Dr. Lawrence H. Mills, Professor of Zend Philology in Oxford. Chicago: The Open Court Publishing Co., 1908. Pages 84.

The author is sure that Daniel and Zechariah and Revelations (sic) show much influence of Persian theology. In particular he singles out the seven spirits of Zech. and Revelation as being identical with the Seven Aweshaspends. The author does not produce as much as one had supposed after his preface. His style is rather obscure. On the whole, one may gain some light here, but no great amount.

A Short History of Greek Literature from Homer to Julian. By W. C. Wright, Ph.D., of Bryn Mawr College. The American Book Co., New York and Cincinnati, 1908. Pages 543.

The author has made a wonderfully compact and lucid discussion of Greek literature. He has digested a vast mass of detail and preserved proper proportion. It is only a manual, but it is a most excellent one. However, it does seem a little odd to find no mention of Paul or John in the book. Now, of course, the New Testament is not mere literature, but it is a defective
