

church in New York City. This sermon is the first which he preached as pastor. One might think he carries the thought of reconciliation a good deal further than the text warrants when he applies it to the reconciliation of Christians, with each other, of Christianity to science, and of business to God's law; yet these broad applications may in a sense be regarded as suggested at least by his text. In a few sentences here and there the preacher's leaning toward liberalism crops out; but on the whole it is a vigorous, manly measure, true to the fundamentals of Christianity, and spoken with an earnest and devout spirit. May the author's ministry among us be greatly blessed.

QUIET TALKS ON PERSONAL PROBLEMS.

By S. D. Gordon, New York. A. C. Armstrong & Sons. Pages 224. Price, 75 cents net.

The author of these "Quiet Talks" needs no introduction to those who have read the former volumes of the series. The same spirituality, simplicity, good sense and helpfulness which marked the former works are all found in this. The discussions are upon sin, doubt, ambition, self-mastery, pain, guidance, the church and questioned things. Sympathy, penetration and candor, rather than profundity or finality characterize the discussion. Those upon sin, self-mastery, pain, and guidance may be noted as particularly helpful.

BAPTISM AND THE REMISSION OF SINS.

By President E Y. Mullins, D.D., LL.D. American Baptist Publication Society, Philadelphia. Pages 24. Price 5 cents net.

This paper was read at the National Congress of Disciples, April 25th, 1906, by special invitation. The Publication Society has done well to bring out this singularly clear and able discussion in tract form. It is a strong and lucid presentation of the symbolic or ceremonial interpretation of those passages of Scripture which, as bearing on what is called Baptismal Regeneration, have
