

The first named work embraces forty-two closely printed pages giving diseases, and indications in each, which may be met by the use of Diurnules and Diurnal Tablet Triturates. It will be of much interest to practitioners requiring a system of medication involving the most certain remedies in the minuest form.

Under the head of "Biologic Therapeutics," are furnished reprints of the lecture of Hector W. G. Mackenzie, M.A., M.D., (England), on "The Treatment of Myxœdema and other Diseases by the use of certain Organic Extracts," also an illustrated paper by Edward Carmichael, M.D., Edinburgh, on "Cretinism treated by the Hypodermic Injection of Thyroid Extract and by Feeding," besides excerpts from prominent medical journals upon the use of the thyroid gland in therapeutics.

Either or both of these pamphlets will be mailed free to any physician applying to Parke, Davis & Company, Detroit, Mich.

American vs. Foreign Pharmaceutical Articles.—Inconsistency is probably the most common failing of mankind. We find a lot of doctors who are unwilling to use an American proprietary article, such as advertised in the journals, yet doctors and medical journals take up foreign articles, even when the formula is secret and patented, and use them.

Why can't an American pharmacist make as good a thing as a German, for instance? Further, the former doesn't talk about a trademark and conceal his formula.

This country is getting old enough to let go the leading strings and lead itself. If you can get a good non-secret preparation in America, what on earth is the use of importing some patented article from abroad? Be consistent.—Atlanta Med. and Surg. Journal, May, 1893.

Sanmetto in Prostatic Disease—Vesical Catarrh—Spermatorrhea—Pre-Senility.—I have been using Sanmetto for two years quite extensively, and, I am free to say, with unvarying good results. It is the most satisfactory agent I have ever tried in prostatic disease and vesical catarrh. I have had excellent results with Sanmetto in spermatorrhea and premature decline of the sexual power. It is certainly a valuable addition to a physician's armamentarium.—J. W. HOLLAND, M.D., Osceola, Iowa.

NEW YORK CITY, Nov. 1, 1893.

DEAR SIR: It is our pleasure to inform you of a.

change in our address, owing to removal from No. 132 South Fifth Avenue, to the new Scott & Bowne Building. Hereafter will you kindly send papers, and address all communications to us to the Scott & Bowne Building, New York City. Our new building is located on New Chambers, Pearl and Rose Streets. It is twelve stories high, and is considered the best building of its kind in this city.

It may interest you to know that this new and splendidly equipped building is the direct result of the public appreciation of Scott's Emulsion. You are, no doubt, well aware that we believe in advertising, and we are pleased to take this occasion of expressing our thanks to the newspapers and other periodicals of the country for their many courtesies, as well as to say a word about the importance of advertising any article of merit. While we naturally think that our great success would not have been possible unless Scott's Emulsion possessed superior merit, we do not underestimate the value of advertising, and we would suggest to every business man that in advertising he finds the best and quickest way to public favor.

You are at liberty to quote this expression of our faith in advertising, if you like, provided, of course, you also set forth the fact that the merit of an advertised article must, in the end, determine its success. The new home of Scott's Emulsion surely testifies to the value of advertising a praiseworthy preparation.

Yours, very truly,

SCOTT & BOWNE.

A. G. Cross, M.D., writes under date of June 12, 1893, from Waynesburgh, Pa., "I am free to say that I have derived more satisfaction and benefit, both to myself and patients, where a hypnotic and anodyne was indicated, from combining Codeine with Antikamnia, in the proportions of one-quarter to one-half grain of the former, with five to ten grains of the latter, than from anything else I have used in an experience of thirty-five years."

L. B. Grandy, M.D., Demonstrator of Anatomy and Microscopy, Southern Medical College, Atlanta, Ga., says: "Antikamnia has given me the most happy results in the headaches and other disagreeable head symptoms that have accompanied the late catarrhal.
