Need of conservation of Historical and Geographical Tourism Sites

If we want to recall or remembers the past while preparing for the future then there is need to preserve the places and save the historical & cultural phenomena for our next generation. Preserving historical & cultural sites are beneficial to us, in lots of ways that's why we need to preserve or conserve the sites.

We can say the most important matter of historical places is innovation in architecture style, because of that last of tourists are attracted and then they increases historical and cultural as well as geographical tourism. Tourism sectors are allows the combination of knowledge of life, its history, culture, traditions, customs & rituals of the local people.

Historical and geographical tourism sites or places are much richer sources of information about the places and its features. Because of that lost of tourists are attracted towards and through this there are many opportunities are establish about trade, commerce and many sources for local people to livelihood. The core element or the values of historical places are more important to as and that's why its need to protect and sustain our historical culture and to preserve it. Most of the historical places are restored for rehabilitated to tourist functions, as museums, galleries, and preserved ruins into hotels and resorts. It's the function if seems, welcomed about form the point of view of historic relics protection and also the development of sustainable tourism, but in this way if we going to convert all the historical places into another places there is a loss of cultural heritage and its main objectives. If we want to sustain and forward the history or the features of these places towards our next generation then it's really need to save and protect these places.

Historical tourism means traveling with the primary purpose of exploring the history and heritage of a places. Sometimes tourism is helpful to conservation the historical places or heritage, Tourism is a vehicle to presenting the heritage or landscapes to people or public through this there is a economic and social viability.

Tourism has the potential to create a beneficial effects on the environment by contributing to environmental protection and conservation Geographical tourism involves visiting places to observe special geographic features or a region or places. Geographical components provide suitable bases for tourism development. And the components are the accessibility and location, space, scenery and climate, Geographical tourism is that the branch of human geography and it deals' with the study of travel and its impact on places. Geography is fundamental to the study of tourism. Because tourism is geographical in nature. Geography tourism studies the relation between places, landscapes and people also describing travel and tourism as an Economic, Social and Cultural activity.

Geographical natural resources include air, minerals, plants, soil, water and wild life. Conservation is the take care and to protect these resources so that they can persist for future generations. We can maintain the diversity of species, genes and ecosystem because they are the part and parcel of geographical scene. Over the past few years there are some researches are there through this we can say how to conserve our geographically areas.

To improve tourism operation and guidelines, for that we develop and accept a sustainable operating Principles and practices that reduces tourisms negative impact on species and their habitat, secondly we increase conservation awareness and constituencies for residents and visitors and benefiting to all also we can develop the increase income diversification through this we create sustainable tourism jobs, products and other things.

If we want or decide to protect the tourist places or sites then we can do some thing like rules and regulation the United Nations World Tourism Organization defines sustainable tourism as “tourism that takes full account of its current and future economic, social and environmental impacts, addressing the needs of visitors, the industry, the environment and host communities.”

The research says that to avoid the plane or take non-stop Flights – because of that the landings cause most of a plane's carbon emission, in addition to emitting a lot of heat. It you can avoid the plane and take the train its not only will decrease your carbon footprints. Secondly the Research can say we say go green then we can help to manage or prefect the tourism. Then we spread the awareness on sustainable tourism – it's our duty to educate other by spreading awareness on the subject. Also we can support legislation that promotes sustainable tourism, also we can do or buy souvenirs from local stores, etc.

In this way according to a search we can help to prefect our geographical phenomena. The value of tourism for the economic and social development that if brings to communities allover the world. One of the most impact full ways that tourism can protect cultural, historical, geographical heritage is through community empowerment. When looking at tourism as a tool to protect and inform cultural, historical & geographical heritage it can also be seen as a teaching tool. Tourism can be viewed as a process-money is exchanged parts of a community are engaged.

Historical and geographical sites have always popular attraction for local & international tourists. The areas are expressed in ifs historical resources and many tourist destinations are devoted to history. Its need to preserve the historical and geographical places monuments for study our heritage, culture, landscape etc. Just we can say when the repurposing older buildings has lots of benefits because old building often have more unique style, architectural elements than modern one. Older places reflect a time period when transportation moved people not vehicles. Lots of building, monuments, forts etc. with architectural significance and attract tourists.

Conservation of heritage Buildings or historical sites is very important. Because it provides a sense of identity and continuity in a fast changing world for future generation says by a research. These sites are great importance to understand our past, our culture, our heritage and so on.

One of the great historical tourist site is. The Mughal emperor Shahjahan built a tomb for his beloved late wife Mumtaz Mahal in 1632 – the Taj Mahal. His wish was to make the unique structure and iconic Monument. This beautiful structure's uniqueness has led to it being enlisted as one of the seven wonders in the world. Since 1983, it has been listed by UNESCO as world heritage site. The history of passionate love story of king. According to government Taj Mahal witnesses 7 to 8 Million people visited every year. More importantly, it has been welcoming tourists from all social strata, religions and nationalities for clicking a picture in front of iconic. Taj Mahal for that heritage its need to protect or preserve the monument.

The identity of a nation, region, community or a group depend upon its historical and geographical sites. These sites shapes human society because all we grow up with these identities.

If we want preserve then we follow such steps.

- 1) Awareness campaign to educate the community.
- 2) Adopt such monuments.
- 3) Strict Government action & plan to save monuments, places, sites.
- 4) Collecting, generation of funds & donation for their renovation.
- 5) Chemical treatments for restoration.
- 6) Save from pollution disasters.

A tourist attraction is a places of interest that tourists visit, typically for its interest or an exhibited natural or cultural value, historical significance, natural beauty, offering leisure and amusement. Geographical sites are not just determine whether humans can live in a certain area or not it also determines peoples lifestyle as they adapt to the available food and climate patterns.

Conservation is the careful maintenance and upkeep of a natural resource to prevent it from disappearing. A natural resource is the physical supply of something that exists in nature. Such as soil, water, air, plants, animals and energy. If we want to sustain human being then there I need to protect our geographical areas because all the human & non human beings are depend on the environment. So for our life we need to conserve our geographical areas. A tourist attraction is a places of interest that tourists visit for its inherent natural, cultural, historical and geographical significance. Tourism generates economic benefits for both countries. Especially in developing countries one of the primary motivations for region to promote itself as a tourism destination is the expected economic benefit. Tourism can contribute to government revenues, direct contributions are generated by takes on incomes from tourism employment & tourism business, also provide employment opportunities, contribute to local economies, provide foreign currency earnings etc. These are the benefits from tourism and also we need to protect its.

The historical and geographical places play a very important role in development of a nation, village, society. Each and every one play important role to protect our heritage. These historical and geographical places or sites are very important in glimpse of world. It's a unique classification and through that we can explore our history and geographical phenomena against the whole world. We need to preserve these sites and protect it. Because if we loose the beauty and richness of these sites then it's a biggest loss of our nation. We tries our best to protect these heritage. These sites are our unique identities in front of whole world. If we want to alive in world it's need to protect these places. Our ancestors protect these places with wars, many natural disasters, they keep safe these places in various natural and human disasters. And now its our duty to protect our world. And save this beauty, these history to our future generation because through these information our next many generations can't forget our richness, history and all things should be remember by them. So again I request to all of you to more on, and prefect our historical and geographical tourist sites.
