GGOS Organisational Structure

The Terms of Reference of GGOS are regularly updated according

- to changes in the IAG Statutes and Bylaws,

- new strategic challenges for GGOS, or

- organisational refinements

to meet new user needs or to be in line with global initiatives in geodesy matters,

- major revisions in 2007, 2011, 2016, 2020, 2023.

Recent changes in the GGOS Structure

Focus Area Unified Height System completed (decommissioned in July 2023)

New Focus Area AI4G (May 2023)

GGOS structural elements

The GGOS Focus Areas (formerly known as GGOS Themes) are intended to face broader issues that require the concurrence of different IAG components to be solved. They

- are cross-disciplinary
- are meant to consider gaps and needed future geodetic products, and
- are incubators of new research fields.

GGOS structural elements

The GGOS Bureau of Products and Standards (GGOS-BPS)

- monitors the use of unified standards across the IAG Components,
- reviews, evaluates and recommends standards related to geodesy adopted by other organisations such as ISO, IAU, IUGG, CODATA, etc.
- identifies possible gaps in standards and products, and initiates steps to fill them.

GGOS structural elements

The GGOS Bureau of Networks and Observations (GGOS-BNO)

- develops a strategy to design, integrate and maintain the fundamental geodetic infrastructure including communication and data flow;
- monitors the status of the networks and advocates for implementation of core and other co-located network sites and improved network performance.

GGOS structural elements

The GGOS Coordinating Office (GGOS-CO)

- serves as the Secretariat of GGOS,
- coordinates the administrative work in support of the various GGOS structural elements,
- is responsible for outreach and communications,
- maintains, manages, and coordinates the GGOS web and social media presence,
- hosts the position of Manager of External Relations.

GGOS structural elements

GGOS Affiliates

- are national or regional organisations that coordinate geodetic activities in that country or region,
- allow increased participation in GGOS at the regional level.

GGOS structural elements

GGOS Science Panel (GGOS-SP)

- is composed of leading experts in geodesy and other Earth sciences,
- provides advice and recommendations to GGOS on scientific aspects relevant to GGOS as requested,
- coordinates the realisation of GGOS Sessions in scientific conferences (IUGG, IAG, AGU, EGU,...).

GGOS structural elements

GGOS Executive Committee (GGOS-EC)

- serves under the direction of the GGOS Governing Board to carry out the day-to-day activities of GGOS,
- is responsible for the comprehensive and coordinated design, achievement, and progress monitoring of the GGOS Implementation Plan,
- its members represent the main structural elements of GGOS.

On-going activities

- Until 30-09-2023: Complete the GGOS-GB membership (Laura).
- Until 30-09-2023: Nomination of candidates for the two members-at-large positions (Laura + GGOS-EC):
  - Elected by the other members of the GGOS-GB.
  - The GGOS President convenes an Election Committee (in this case the GGOS-EC) to propose the list of candidates.
- Until 10-10-2023: Election of the two members at large (GGOS-GB).
- Until 15-10-2023: Decision on the two appointed members (GGOS-EC) (most probably Early Career Scientists) .
- Until 31-10-2023: Election of two representatives to the GGOS-EC (GGOS-GB).

Closing remarks

- As usual in the IAG, any action taken to support the implementation, development or maintenance of GGOS or its structural elements is voluntary and on a best effort basis.
- Any resources needed have to be provided by the contributing colleagues through their home institutions (universities, agencies, research institutes, etc.).
- The availability of external funding is not foreseen and everything depends on the commitment of the colleagues involved.
- Therefore, the participation and cooperation of each member of the GGOS Boards, Bureaus, Coordinating Office, Committees, Affiliates, Focus Areas, Working Groups, etc. is highly appreciated and acknowledged.
