Discussion

1. Open Government: an Overview

Ministerial Mandate Letters

“committed to set a higher bar for openness and transparency in government.”

2016 Federal Budget

- ✓ Doubled TBS capacity for Open Government
- ✓ Provided funding to make it easier for Canadians to access government information

“Government and its information must be open by default.
Simply put, it is time to shine more light on government to make sure it remains focused on the people it was created to serve – Canadians.”

The Right Honourable Justin Trudeau,
Prime Minister of Canada

1. Open Government: an International Movement

Canada's Third Biennial Plan to the OGP (2016-2018)

22 commitments, including open science and open data

Four themes

Open by Default

Fiscal Transparency

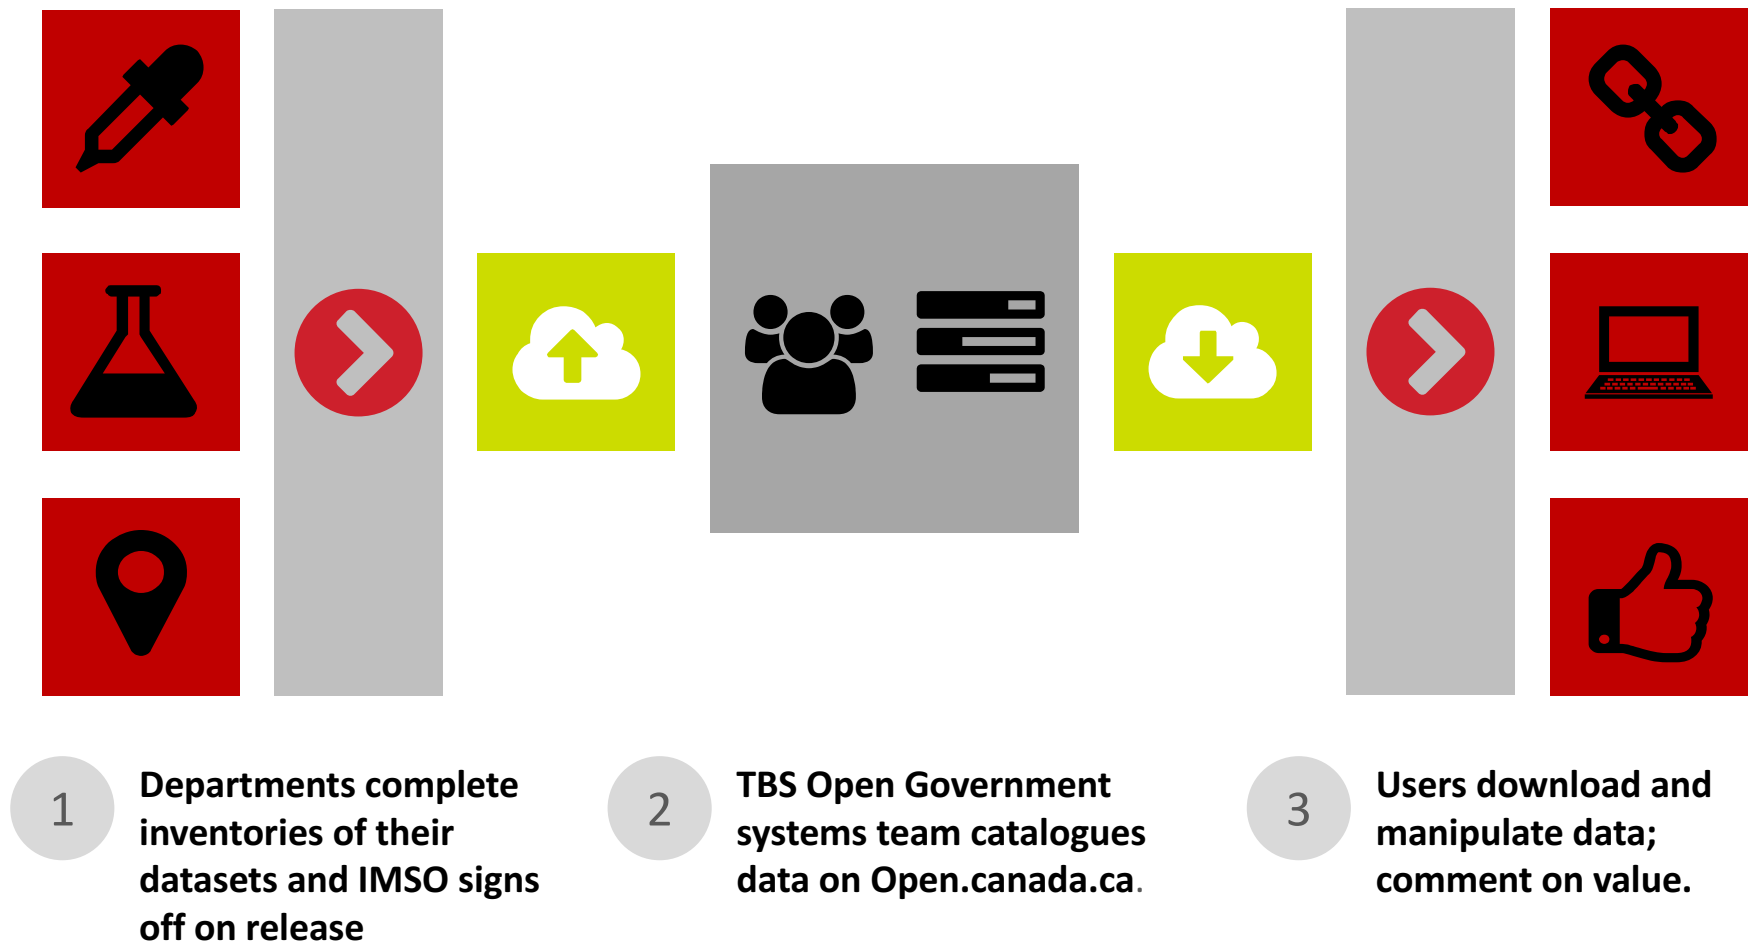

Support for Innovation

Engaging Canadians

2. Federal Open Data: Where it Lives

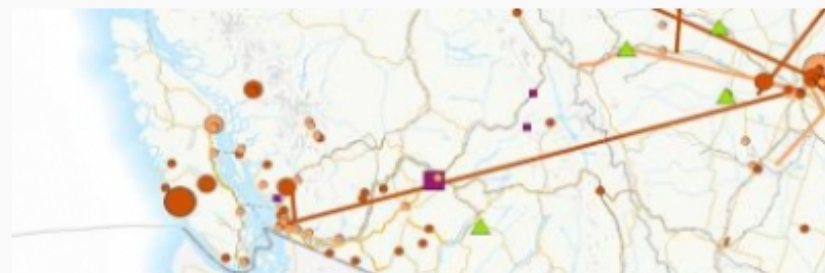

2. Open Data Example: Open Maps

Open Maps

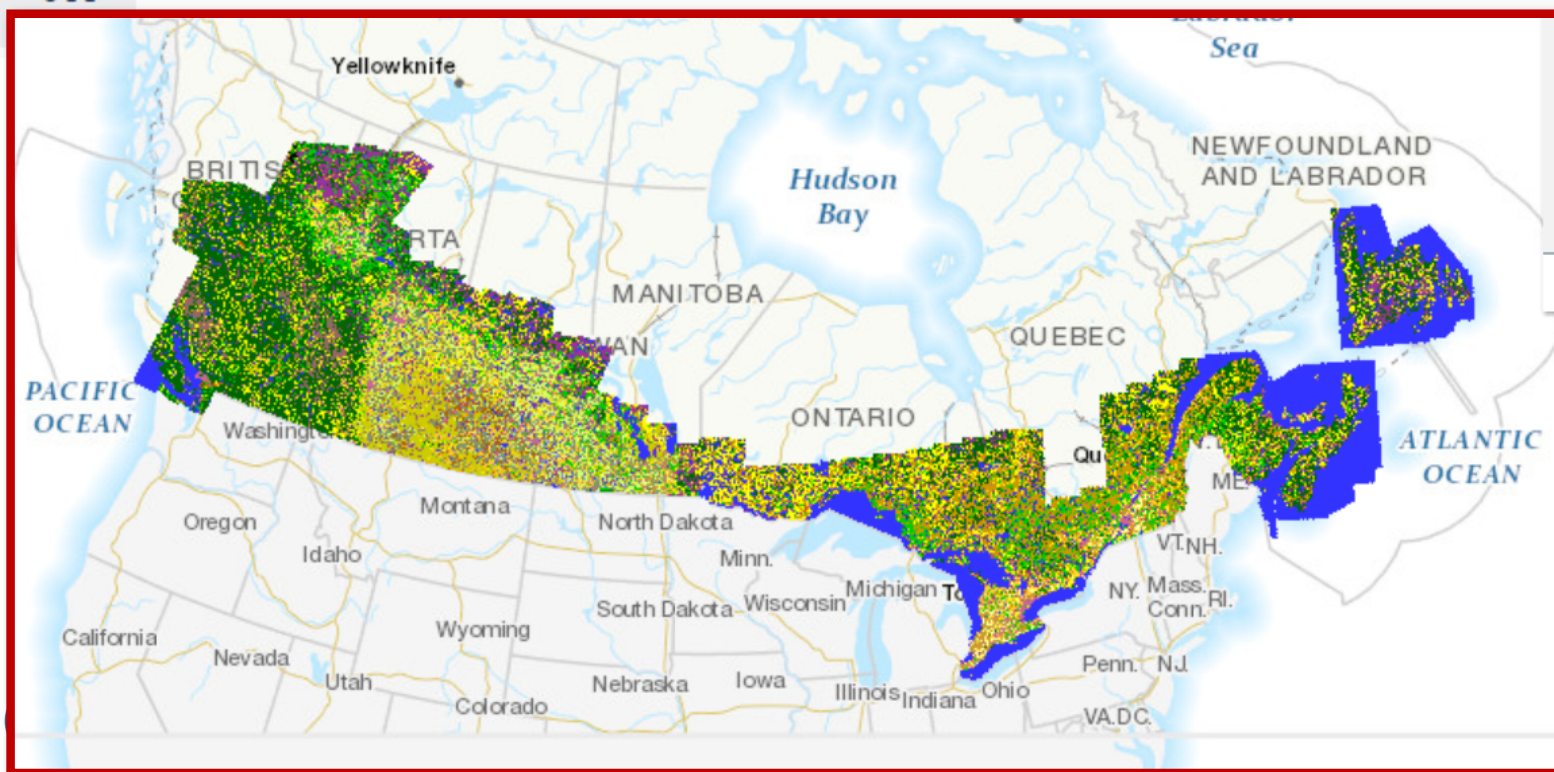

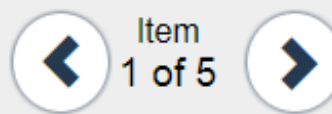

Open Maps provides access to the Government of Canada's geospatial information. You can combine, visualize, and analyze geospatial data and collaborate with other Canadians.

Open Maps is a work in progress and will expand and improve over the coming months. Check back for updates, and please let us know what you think.
