Introduction

Details and features

An application for learning English was created as part of the "Elders Learning English for Europe ERASMUS+" project (No. 1, 2021-1-PL01-KA220-ADU-000033465). Elene stands out as a unique tool for people who have started learning English and want to improve their skills by experiencing practical applications in travel scenarios.

The application uses the Situated learning method, which means that the user has the opportunity to learn English through real-life situations (while travelling) and adapt it to the appropriate situation through the catalogue of 30 lesson topics and more.

At the beginning of each chapter, there is a theoretical part where we discuss the most important topics. Varied in topics such as ship, train, plane and airport, the lessons are carefully designed to meet your needs. Then we will go to the vocabulary part, where we present the most important words and expressions, in which you can listen to an audio file. If you still have problems understanding the vocabulary or situations in the "Video" tab, play the videos for the appropriate topic to listen to or learn more about.

Dialogues are an important element of our application. Engage in purposeful dialogue during lessons and quizzes, covering specialized topic sections for each chapter. Quiz is a dynamic assessment tool that provides instant results, allowing users to assess their understanding of the text. The results and progress ranking are confidentially displayed only to the user. Get your score after each quiz to know how well you passed the given criteria.

All this makes learning English with our program much easier and more effective.

Additional educational materials in PDF format enhance understanding of various topics.

All methods are available and useful to master, and the time of help and assistance brings measurable results. Our application is not only a tool for learning English, but also a way for personal development.

The application uses the "Situated learning" method.

The application is personalized to make it easier for the user to use, e.g.:

- Lesson topics and menus are translated by the selected language using a button.
- the quiz has a personal ranking for your analysis of your progress.
- various topics developed with multimedia materials
- Learn by listening, watching, reading and using more of your senses to better remember what you learn

Technologies used

Text to Speech - In the case of flashcards, it allows you to read the words and listen. What is particularly helpful in learning English is that the user can know how to pronounce newly learned words.

webView - allows you to display pages, in our case, it is used to display movies with dialogues.

Ranking - personal ranking of progress in quizzes. Self-examination of your language skills.

Translation - translation with a button. The translation includes the translation of the main menu and topic titles

AI videos - videos created using AI technology to help improve your conversation skills.

The main menu screen

Description of the elements

On the main menu, we can find the upper part welcoming personalized messages, below that there is the Co-founder and logo.

On the right side on the bottom, we can find a button with a translation symbol, it is used to utilize something that we call Quick Translate.

In the middle, we can find 6 tiles with different content inside to discover. The tiles are:

- Lesson - pre-prepared lessons based on the PDF card content from the ELENE project
- Vocabulary - words, and images according to the word as well as reading to get familiarized with the word pronunciation.
- Video - the short movies with English words and sentences, very nicely animated and user-friendly.
- Quiz - the section with little tests to check your current knowledge from selected topics
- Conversation - You can find here, conversations examples so you can learn typical user interactions in different situations
- PDF - PDF materials created as part of the ELENE project

The Quick Translate

After holding the quick translate button the English names are changed to the selected language as native. Quick Translate is used to translate the words that you can find on the screen to the user's native language. The translation is not permanent and it is working until the user lifts his finger from the screen, this is to force the user to sink into English and use translation only as a little help if the user will lose themselves.

Buttons are also located in categories. Just like in the menu, there is a button for it.

Before translation - in English	After translation - in Polish

If you need to change your native language, no problem, you can change it in the main menu.

Lessons

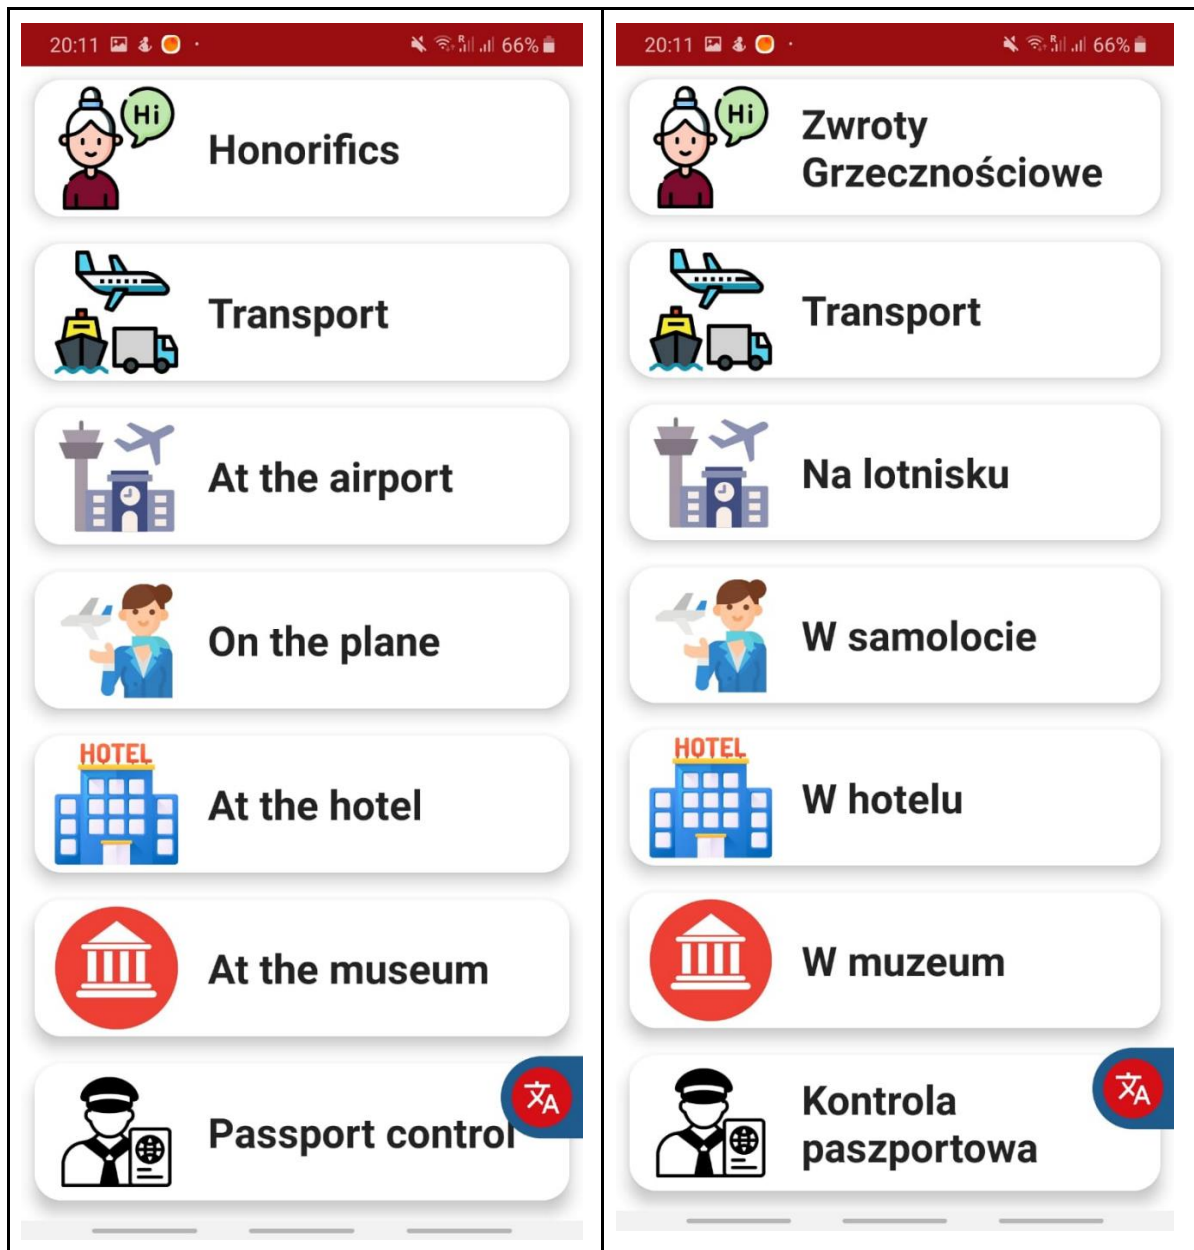

The lesson section is split into two screens:

- The lesson menu - it allows a user to choose the lesson that he wants to learn
- The lesson screen - this screen contains a particular lesson for a selected topic

The lesson menu

On this screen, the user needs to select the lesson that he wants to learn.

The lesson screen

This section is focused on giving the user as much information about the topic as we can with a bit of entertainment to not get bored by the wall of text by adding images between texts. Modernistic design grants a feel of luxury, aesthetics, and clearness that modern users require as well as adults and elders who don't like to be overwhelmed by complicated designs of apps.

The conversation screen

The conversation screen has been designed to be consistent with previous ones for user convenience. Each Conversation contains a collection of words and pre-prepared conversations that are easy to understand and can be used in everyday situations. They are situationally created. Each conversation has a text (dialogue) and a movie created using artificial intelligence in which you can play the role of a person who, for example, needs help at a train station to buy a train ticket from a machine that only accepts credit cards.
