DIAMAS Survey on Institutional Publishing - Data availability statement

Survey data is shared in various ways:

IPSP dataset:
This dataset contains basic data of Institutional Publishing Service Providers (IPSPs) that will become part of an IPSP Registry in June 2025. It holds data about 651 organisations that responded to the survey and agreed to be listed in the IPSP registry. It contains names, contact information and information on countries, supported languages, parent organisations, IPSP type, services offered, output types, disciplinary and coverage. Downloadable in csv format from: https://doi.org/10.5281/zenodo.8269906.
Description is at: https://doi.org/10.5281/zenodo.8305139.

Basic aggregate tabular data:
This dataset contains full tables with aggregate data for all questions from the survey, with the exception of free-text responses, from all 685 survey respondents. This includes, per question, overall totals and percentages for the answers given as well the breakdown by both IPSP-types: institutional publishers (IPs) and service providers (SPs). Tables at country level have not been shared, as cell values often turned out to be too low to prevent potential identification of respondents. The data is available in csv and docx formats, with csv files grouped and packaged into ZIP files. Metadata describing data type, question type, as well as question response rate, is available in csv format. The R code used to generate the aggregate tables is made available as well.
Downloadable from the DIAMAS community folder in Zenodo:

Custom aggregate tabular data:
Since the full raw data is not being shared to prevent the easy identification of respondents (in line with conditions set out in the survey questionnaire), the DIAMAS project is open to community requests for performing quantitative analyses not available in the landscape report or the country reports. Until August 2025, and to the extent that capacity is available, quantitative analyses will be carried out and resulting aggregate data openly shared, without disclosing who requested the analysis. Any results will be downloadable in csv and xlsx formats from the DIAMAS Zenodo Community at https://zenodo.org/communities/diamasproject/.
