Making a Hive Manifesto

As a Hive, it's important to have a number of ground rules to work by in the group. We call this a Hive Manifesto.

We would advise you as a Queen Bee to make this a group activity in your a to discuss among the Hive members what would be a good set of rules to work by. You're free to define your own rules or to use suggestions from the list to create your own Hive Manifesto.

You're advised to limit the total number of Manifesto rules to about 10 in total, so focus on the most important ones. And you might want to cover items from all four categories for your Manifesto, or to define your own ones.
