Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 1 (2 pg.): editors notes on Manual of Roman law (23.5.1941) (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 2 (1 pg.): R. Hart (OUP) to Ernst (27.3.1987); no reissue of Classical Roman law, since there is no demand for it (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 3 (1 pg.): F.A. Mann to A. Blackburn (OUP) (28.10.1986); reprint of Classical Roman law, Schulz was a dear old friend of mine (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 4 (1 pg.): Ernst to Blackburn (7.7.1986); proposal to reissue CLR, either at OUP or Scientia (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 5 (1 pg.): Blackburn to Honore (17.12.1984); not much of a market for CLR (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 6 (2 pg.): Honore to Blackburn (5.12.1984); CLR too idiosyncratic, informed by a 'liberal' philosophy and a purist view of Roman law (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 7 (1 pg.): Blackburn to Honore (3.12.1984); suggestion to reprint CLR (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 8 (1 pg.): Ernst to OUP (20.10.1984); suggestion to reprint CLR (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 9 (1 pg.): Martha Schulz to OUP (Cordy ?) (11.1.1961); thanks for sending me the Spanish translation of CLR (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 10 (2 pg.): P.J. Spicer (OUP) to Schulz (11.3.1949); the written book is different from what was originally envisaged, Sisam's plan was for the book to cover Augustus to Justinian, now it is less suited for the undergraduate (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 11 (4 pg.): Lawson to Spicer (13.2.1949); report on CLR, would only enjoy a small sale among undergraduates, much depends on interpolation, needs revision because of idiom, too advanced for undergrads (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 12 (2 pg.): De Zulueta to Spicer (14.1.1949); Schulz delivered a book different from Sisam had envisaged, should not be hard on a man in his tragic position, Lawson should give as much help as needed (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 13 (1 pg.): Spicer to Schulz (21.12.1953); due to good sales, reprint of CLR is contemplated, looking forward to publishing book on Justinian's private law (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 14 (1 pg.): Spicer to Goodheart (23.12.1949) (extract); may lose one third of cost over CLR, as a next volume, go for Papinian or Justinian? (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 15 (2 pg.): Schulz to Spicer (2.8.1949); manuscript of CLR returned, Levy-Bruhl wants to make a French edition (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 16 (2 pg.): Spicer to Schulz (19.5.1949); delighted at prospect of delivery to printer in August, understand and accept reasons to limit yourself to classical Roman law, what will be the exact title? (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 17 (3 pg.): Schulz to Spicer (15.5.1949); begun final revision on manuscript, reg. period: Sisam gave S. full freedom, resolved simply to write what I know, studied class. Roman law all my life, originality: different from Buckland, better to present students with a single period of law, Justinian not completely excluded, after discussion with Goodhart and Lawson agree upon 'Classical Roman law' (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 18 (4 pg.): De Zulueta to Spicer (12.1.1949); students may want more Justinianic law, difficulties with the title, Schulz writes fairly good English, 'Schulz has many friends in Oxford' (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 19 (1 pg.): Spicer to De Zulueta (10.11.1949); typescript of 'Manual' ready for revision, ask for your criticism, difficulty with the title (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 20 (2 pg.): Schulz to Spicer (2.1.1949); 'The title 'Roman private law from Augustus to Diocletian' would, in my opinion, be dangerous, for the student is not likely to buy a book dealing with only one period of Roman law', concise, simple, form of lecture-notes, describe the 'principles of classical Private law' (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 21 (1 pg.): editors notes Spicer on Schulz (16.11.1948); on the Manual, what arrangements have been made? (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 56 (1 pg.):
Sisam to Bailey (15.5.1939); Press cannot shoulder the whole burden of Schulz coming to Oxford, if one of the colleges does not contribute it might be preferable to stay in Holland (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 57 (1 pg.):
Sisam to De Zulueta (4.5.1939); Schulz has agreed to do the chapter, cannot put up more than 100 Pounds/y for two years for the Manual, Manual cannot be done in Holland, History can (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 58 (1 pg.):
Sisam to De Zulueta (25.4.1939) (extract); great advantage to do the History and the Manual in England, very doubtful of a manual produced in Holland without the proper contacts, 'I had myself thought that he would be offered rather more on the academic side' (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 59 (1 pg.):
Sisam to Bailey (25.4.1939); Schulz would be useful in Oxford, 'Schulz is a first-rate man and also personally attractive. Is there any hope of the College being able to do a little more for him under the circumstances, now that Conrad has lapsed?' (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 60 (2 pg.):
Schulz to Sisam (23.4.1939); academic relief fund in Holland, doubtful about offer from Balliol, permit, may I write the Manual in Holland? (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 61 (1 pg.):
Sisam to Schulz (15.2.1939); De Zulueta still intends to do an edition of Gaius,, Papinian's Quaestiones are a possibility (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 62 (1 pg.):
Schulz to Sisam (13.2.1939); edition of Gaius suggested by Jolowicz, De Zulueta gave up his plans to do so, hope to finish commentary on Papinian's Quaestiones (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 63 (1 pg.):
Sisam to Schulz (10.2.1939); Jolowicz did not know De Zulueta was already preparing an edition of Gaius, I made the suggestion of a Manual of Roman law 'for which the field is clear and which could fairly be said to fit in with the work being done and the work required in Oxford' (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 64 (1 pg.):
Schulz to Sisam (7.2.1939); based on letters from OUP and Balliol, British Consul has issued visas, Jolowicz suggested new edition of Gaius instead of a Manual (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 65 (1 pg.):
Sisam to Schulz (31.1.1939); Delegates have a Manual of Roman law in mind, simpler and more readable than Buckland, more concern for jurisprudential basis than Leage, 'We have very pleasant memories of the production of your previous book in its English form' (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 66 (1 pg.): Sisam to Bell (21.12.1938); Gaius not an option, Manual is, with Jolowcz helping with the English (Photographed)

Oxford University Press Archives, Oxford, Schulz PB ED 010382, 67 (2 pg.): De Zulueta to Sisam (20.12.1938); 'I think Schulz could do a Manual at least as well as an edition of Gaius, although it must be remembered he did the standard initial edition of Ulpian's Regulae. All I ask is that my plans should not be mentioned in this connection, and that they should not even form too serious an objection in your mind.' (Photographed)
