NOTES ON THE ARCHIVAL SOURCE:

In a folder containing different kinds of documents and letters from and to Helmut Coing (in particular: three other letters to Jünger, one for his hundredth birthday and two about the Orden pour le mérite), a letter he sent to Ernst Jünger on June 24th, 1942. It is five pages long (not numbered). Coing writes this letter to communicate that he read the personal diary Jünger wrote during the war-time he spent in France. He displays the great joy he felt in reading the personal experience Jünger describes.
