

#omg #0A

#search

#foreveryone

#lit

#omg #0A

#search

#foreveryone

#lit 🔥

#includeemojis

#resist 🖐️

A nonprofit dedicated to building tools that support the Open Science revolution.

1

why
science?

2

is it

dangerous?

3

who can we trust?

4

who decides what an expert is?

experts

communicators

regular people

5

can the web be stopped?

unpaywall

An open, accurate,
comprehensive index of the Open Access scholarly literature.

Get The Research

$850k grant from Arcadia, a charitable fund of Lisbet Rausing and Peter Baldwin

gtr: serp

- subscribe
- entity box
- filter and rank
 - can i read it
 - altmetrics plus citation
 - include synonyms
- results: include graphics for:
 - article type: RCT, systematic review, peer reviewed: (yes/no)
 - reading difficulty
 - no retracted papers

gtr: article

- links to lit reviews
- links to wiki articles and other external content
- hamlet annotations
- plain-language summary (eg: ELI5, up goer 5, simple wikipedia)

gtr: extra

- open API, open source
- educational resources (how to read a paper)
- teaching resources
- publicity and partnerships

gtr: layers

1. find

2. augment

3. transform

gtr: challenges

- dumbing things down
 - levels (levels one and two don't dumb things down)
 - keep goals modest
- getting the word out
 - partner with libraries and others
- users don't like it
 - ship early and often
- ambitious timeline
 - hiring

Fin

Thanks to the people who've funded us!

- Alfred P. Sloan Foundation
- DataONE
- Shuttleworth Foundation
- Dryad
- National Science Foundation
- Open Society Foundations
- Royster Society of Fellows
- Clarivate Analytics
- Public Knowledge Project
- Arcadia, a charitable fund of Lisbet Rausing and Peter Baldwin