4. Prepare materials for the repository

About the Creative Commons Licenses

The Creative Commons copyright licenses and tools forge a balance inside the traditional "all rights reserved" setting that copyright law creates. Our tools give everyone from individual creators to large companies and institutions a simple, standardized way to grant copyright permissions to their creative work.
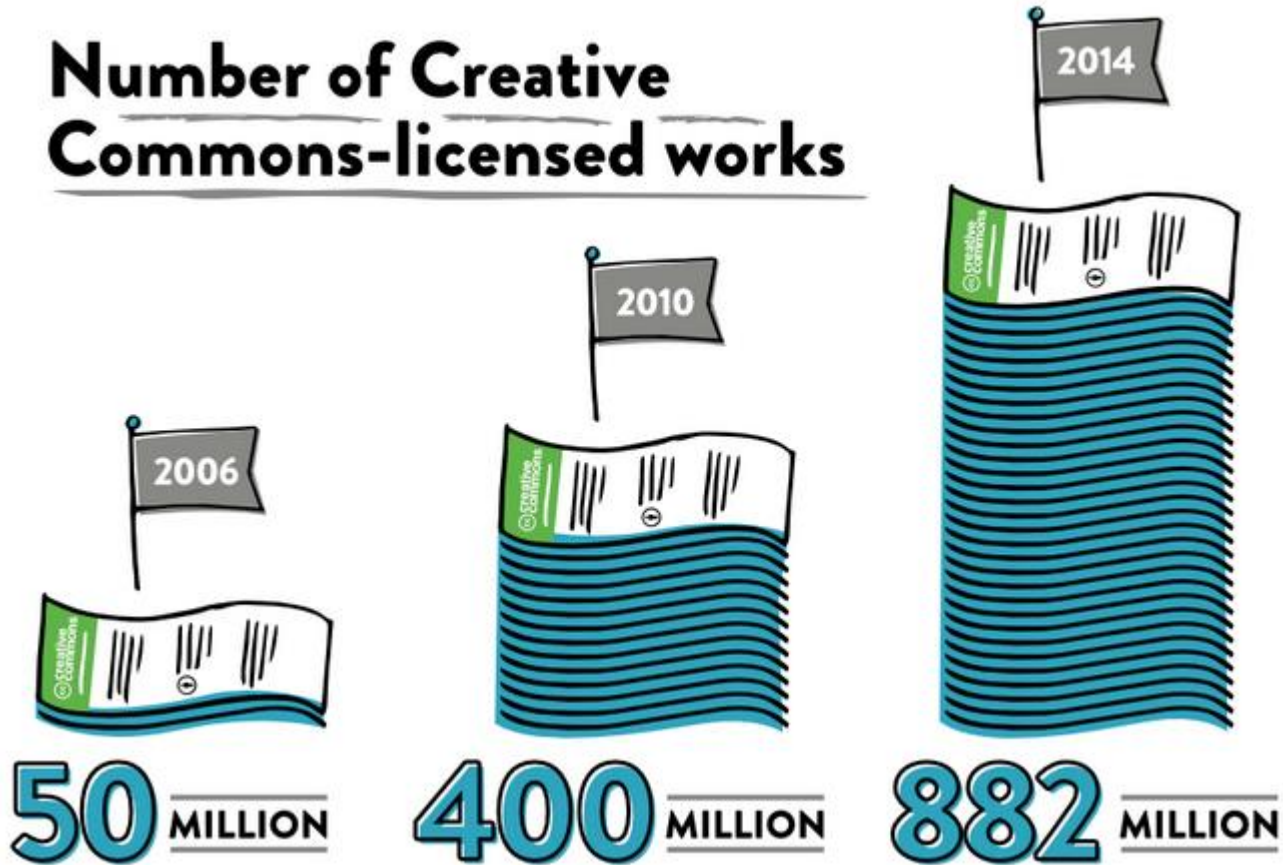

The combination of our tools and our users is a vast and growing digital commons, a pool of content that can be copied, distributed, edited, remixed, and built upon, all within the boundaries of copyright law.

VERSION 2.0
"Open Access is not as simple as 'articles are free to all readers.' Open Access encompasses a range of components such as readership, reuse, copyright, posting and machine readability. Within these areas, publishers and funding agencies have adopted many different policies, some of which are more open and some less open. In general, the more a journal's policies codify immediate availability and reuse with as few restrictions as possible, the more open it is."

AUTHOR POSTING RIGHTS	AUTOMATIC POSTING	MACHINE READABILITY	ACCESS
Author may post any version to any repository or website with no delay	Journals make copies of all articles automatically available in trusted third-party repositories (e.g.,PubMed Central, OpenAire, institutional) immediately upon publication	Article full text, metadata, supporting data (including format and semantic markup) & citations may be accessed via API, with instructions publicly posted	OPEN ACCESS
Author may post some version (determined by publisher) to any repository or website with no delay	Journals make copies of all articles automatically available in trusted third-party repositories (e.g., PubMed Central, OpenAire, institutional) within 6 months	Article full text, metadata, & citations may be accessed via API, with instructions publicly posted
Author may post some version (determined by publisher) to any repository or website with some delay (determined by the publisher)	Journals make copies of all articles automatically available in trusted third-party repositories (e.g., PubMed Central, OpenAire, institutional) within 12 months	Article full text, metadata, & citations may be crawled without special permission or registration, with instructions publicly posted
Author may post some version (determined by publisher) to certain repositories or websites, with or without delays	Journals make copies of some, but not all, articles automatically available in trusted third-party repositories (e.g., PubMed Central, OpenAire, institutional) within 12 months	Article full text, metadata, & citations may be crawled with permission, with instructions publicly posted
Author may not deposit any versions to any repositories or websites at any time	No automatic posting in third-party repositories	No full text articles available for crawling	CLOSED ACCESS

1. Find (and save) open content

Type of content	Examples of places to find open content
Articles	Directory of Open Access Journals (DOAJ) http://doaj.org/ OA repositories
Photos	Flickr CC License Search: https://www.flickr.com/creativecommons/ Wikimedia Commons http://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/Main_Page
Open Educational Resources (OERs) and Courses	Open Education Consortium – OER Search [Note: not all results are openly licensed] http://www.oeconsortium.org/courses/
Grey Literature: Conference proceedings, reports, white papers, slide decks, etc.	OA repositories

2. Examine the licenses

License	Explanation of License	How/where/why is it used?
CC0
CC-BY
BY-SA
BY-ND
BY-NC
BY-NC-SA
BY-NC-ND

3. Generate a license

https://creativecommons.org/choose/

- Select a license.
- Fill in the form to create metadata.
- Copy the text to use later.
- Copy the image to embed into the document.
- Try an offline version as well. (Select "offline" under license mark in the bottom left square.)
