

Fig. Educational scent platform. A) The tins with odour stimuli (or empty) are hidden below a plate with holes for the dog to search for target scent. The reward is dropped between both inclined walls and landing right next to the hole with the target scent. B) The handle is attached on the moveable tray at the middle tin for the handler to easily keep track of the tin(s) holding the target scent. Drawings by Geir Kojedal, Spesialsøk, Norway. C) Dog A pinpoints the tin holding the target scent when working on the scent platform.
