

conjecture as to the manner in which they could have entered the body of this young person. He promises another paper on the subject, in which we trust he will satisfy the curiosity of the public.—

Journal des Debats.

Credat Judæus Apella!!!

ARMY SURGEONS, AND ASSISTANT SURGEONS.

NOTICE has been given to the army surgeons, and assistant surgeons, on half pay, that their services are likely to be soon required. The new levy is to be raised by beat of drum; and orders have been issued, with a view to the expeditious raising of the men, for the officers employed to repair to those parts of the kingdom, in which they may be supposed to possess the most influence.—Courier.

APOTHECARIES' HALL.

THE following gentlemen underwent examination on Thursday last; and were admitted as Licentiates:—

Samuel Abeb, St. George's Hospital.

Thomas Miller, South London Dispensary.

John Falconer, Royal Infirmary, Edinburgh.

John Rees, Infirmary, Union-street, Bishopsgate.

NOTICE OF NEW WORKS.

THE following work has just appeared at Turin, "De pulsibus organicis diagnosticis et prognosticis, necnon de eorum insigni utilitate in morborum therapeia dirigenda. Specimen cum iconibus; auctore H. Sachuro, M. D. &c. August, Taurin." The medical world, observes Omadei, in the Annali Universali di Medicina, will find accurately arranged and digested in this work, all the opinions which have, at various times, been delivered, and all the observations which have been made on the important subject of the pulse, whether as a means tending to elucidate the diagnosis and prognosis of many diseases, or as affording accurate indications for their cure.

The First Part of the Seventh Volume of the Dictionnaire abrégé des Sciences Medicales, has just been published. It is continued from the word Epile to the word Femoro-tibial.

The following work on the Sympathetic Nerve, by Dr. Lobstein, of Strasburg, has just appeared: "De Nervi Sympathetici Humani Fabrica, Usu, et Morbis commentatio Anatomico-Physiologica Tabulis æneis et lithographicis decem auctore illustrata. Joh. Frid. Lobstein, Medicinæ Clinices et Anatomiae Pathologicæ in Facultate Medicâ Argentoratensi Professore."