

Introduction questionnaire data stewardship

Rationale

Good Research Data Management (RDM) is a necessary pre-requisite for FAIR Data and Open Science. For that reason many research institutions provide tools, infrastructure and support to facilitate RDM, although there is no uniform approach. RDM support tends to be provided by employees with a range of different skills and profiles. Consensus about a fitting "job profile" for RDM support staff is lacking. In fact, similar positions even have different names: data stewards, data librarians, data managers, data officers, data consultants, data coordinators, etc. Standardization and professionalization of data support positions in research institutions is an issue that needs to be dealt with. It is important that Institutions employ competent people with the right set of skills, or help existing staff develop these skills.

To tackle the issues mentioned above, the National Coordination Point Research Data Management (LCRDM) has initiated a nationwide survey to gain insight in what Dutch research institutions require, currently implement and what they are developing in the field of research data support. This survey aims to provide a better understanding of the current status quo and the data skills needed to professionalize the role and function of people working in data management. For the purpose of this survey, the range of different tasks in the data support field has been collected under the umbrella concept of data stewardship.

Scope

The survey targets both data support specialists – who assist with data management and supervisors of data support specialists. The survey must be filled-in and returned before [XX-XX-XXXX]. All answers will be anonymized before publishing.

About LCRDM

The National Coordination Point Research Data Management (LCRDM) is a national network of experts in the field of research data management (RDM). The LCRDM forms the link between policy and solutions. Within LCRDM, experts work together to put RDM subjects on the agenda that are too big for one institute to tackle and therefore necessitate a national plan of action. To that end, LCRDM brings together research support services, policy makers, ICT specialists, managers of diverse research institutes and research funding organizations. More information about LCRDM can be found on the website: <https://www.lcrdm.nl/>.

NEXT PAGE

You are about to begin the survey. It consists of 18 questions (closed, multiple choice, and open-ended questions). Completing the survey takes approximately [XX] minutes. To form an impression of the diversity that exists among data professionals, we kindly ask you to fill in your job title and place of employment as well as answering some personal questions. To draw meaningful conclusions from this questionnaire, we need as many respondents as possible. Therefore we ask you to put forward the names of other colleagues we could approach to broaden and enhance our survey.

After answering all the questions please click 'send' to submit your answers. The anonymized results of the survey will be made available on the LCRDM platform.

We kindly thank you for your response!

Questionnaire Data stewardship

What are the current needs of Dutch research institutes in the field of research data management support?

Questions 1 through 16 are concerned with research data management support and the organization where you work.

1. According to your knowledge, which of the following research data management support tasks are currently available /being implemented in your organization?
(tick the appropriate boxes in column 1 /multiple answers are possible)
2. In your opinion, which of the following research data management support tasks should be available/implemented in your organization?
(tick the appropriate boxes in column 2 /multiple answers are possible)

	Support with:	1. Currently available	2. Should be made available
1.	Writing a DMP
2.	Data identification
3.	Data creation
4.	Data retrieval
5.	Data access
6.	Data curation
7.	Data preservation
8.	Data validation
9.	Data integration
10.	Data standardization
11.	Data management
12.	Meta data
13.	Data cleaning
14.	Data storage
15.	Assigning persistent identifier (PI)
16.	Data archiving
17.	Data processing
18.	Making data findable
19.	Data engineering (scripts)
20.	Data sharing
21.	Checking legal requirements
22.	Checking ethical requirements

23.	Checking requirements of research funders
24.	Protecting scientific integrity
25.	Other, namely: .....

This was the last question. Thank you for completing the questionnaire!

Are you available for a more in depth interview (max 1 hour at your institution or by phone) or request the job description text used for posting a vacancy - please send an email to ingeborg.verheul@surfsara.nl?

If you have (a) colleague(s) who are also interested in filling in the questionnaire, please send the link to these person(s).

To submit your answers, don't forget to press 'sent'.
