

<Files\\H32> - § 1 reference coded [0.28% Coverage]

Reference 1 - 0.28% Coverage

It is enough

<Files\\11> - § 1 reference coded [5.16% Coverage]

Reference 1 - 5.16% Coverage

Land in this community only belongs to the Himba people. If you are any other tribe, you don't have land here. I am Herero and we are not recognized here, we are not given land. So land is dependent on what tribe you are and how long you have been in this area. In general, grazing land is limited

<Files\\10> - § 1 reference coded [2.17% Coverage]

Reference 1 - 2.17% Coverage

Yes there is enough grazing land, the only issue is livestock diseases especially when they interact with many others in the community.

<Files\\11> - § 1 reference coded [0.74% Coverage]

Reference 1 - 0.74% Coverage

It is not enough at all because goats are a lot.

<Files\\15> - § 1 reference coded [1.98% Coverage]

Reference 1 - 1.98% Coverage

The grazing land is reducing because there are more people now compared to how it used to be

<Files\\12> - § 1 reference coded [2.55% Coverage]

Reference 1 - 2.55% Coverage

There is little grazing land and rain comes late, the land is too dry and the water just floods as soon as it rains and does not make the grass grow

<Files\\13> - § 1 reference coded [1.01% Coverage]

Reference 1 - 1.01% Coverage

We do not have enough grazing land, we have too many livestock in this area.

<Files\\14> - § 1 reference coded [0.79% Coverage]

Reference 1 - 0.79% Coverage

There's very little because of overgrazing

<Files\\15> - § 1 reference coded [0.31% Coverage]

Reference 1 - 0.31% Coverage

There is enough grazing land

<Files\\16> - § 1 reference coded [0.54% Coverage]

Reference 1 - 0.54% Coverage

Yes, it is not so bad at all.

<Files\\18> - § 1 reference coded [1.31% Coverage]

Reference 1 - 1.31% Coverage

There's little grazing area because of reduced carrying capacity

<Files\\19> - § 1 reference coded [0.68% Coverage]

Reference 1 - 0.68% Coverage

I have few livestock so I think it is enough.