

The InnoRenew CoE Newsletter
December 2017, Issue 1

2017 has been a busy and successful year for the InnoRenew CoE. We have accomplished many milestones, including, organizing and attending events and meetings, publishing scientific articles, conducting research projects, successfully submitting project proposals, and building a strong foundation for our centre of excellence.

The InnoRenew Living Lab has already provided opportunities for collaboration and network building for its members. Everyone is invited to be part of our Living Lab community and find out how they can benefit and how the InnoRenew CoE can help them reach their goals.
