

SOAS Linguistics Webinars

What if Babel was just a myth?

An online panel discussion

12 May, 4PM (London time, GMT +1)

Join Sandrine Loncke, Florian Lionnet and Remadji Hoinathy, three members of the team behind the documentary What if Babel was just a myth? to discuss why and how they made a film about documenting an isolate language spoken by 700 people in southern Chad. Join us to hear about their experience, the reactions to the film, and to ask your own questions.

Sandrine Loncke is an Africanist ethnomusicologist and associate professor in the Department of Music at University of Paris.

Florian Lionnet is Assistant Professor of Linguistics at Princeton University.

Remadji Hoinathy is Scientific Director of the Centre de Recherches en Anthropologie et Sciences Humaines (CRASH) in N'Djaména.

Live webinar Zoom link: <https://bit.ly/3v6gRUI>

The film What if Babel was just a myth? is temporarily free to watch online! Watch the film and join the discussion.

Link for the film: <https://vimeo.com/508127700>

Password: Babel-Sub2019

More about the film: <https://filmfreeway.com/WhatifBabelwasjustaMyth>