Ingredients

Blood Balance Advanced Formula ingredients are relatively few compared to other dietary supplements of its kind. However, these ingredients seem to have their role in keeping a person's blood levels healthy, so let us check them out one by one in a scientific fashion to understand their full uses and benefits to the human body.

White Mulberry Leaves – These leaves are taken in powdered form to treat diabetes, high cholesterol levels, and high blood pressure. It is also used to mitigate the common cold, but so far, there has been no good scientific evidence to back this claim up. It has also been recently added as a treatment for obesity since a compound found in mulberries named Rutin boosts metabolism, thus aiding weight loss.

Berberine Extract – Berberine is commonly taken as a treatment for diabetes, high cholesterol levels, and high blood pressure. It is much like the Mulberry, but rather than being used for the common cold, it treats burns and canker sores. This extract can also allegedly improve liver function in the long run. More scientific research is needed to assess the full potential of this extract.

Juniper Berry – These berries are used to treat gastrointestinal tract problems (GI Tract) such as the upset stomach, flatulence, heartburn, bloating, loss of appetite, parasites, and other kinds of GI infections. It is also used as a treatment for urinary tract infections and kidney and bladder stone treatment.

Bitter Melon – Also known as the bitter gourd, is widely eaten in South and Southeast Asian countries known for its bitter taste unless cooked right. The only reason that people eat this fruit is that it is highly nutritious for our blood. It can stabilize blood sugar levels and tone down stomach and intestinal problems. It can also decrease cholesterol levels. It is not very nice, but it is probably the best fruit you can have if you wish to have excellent blood levels.

Vitamin B7 (Biotin) – Biotin is usually taken for the skin, hair, and nails. It increases metabolism and can make you look better due to its regenerative properties on your hair, skin, and nails.

Chromium – This mineral is used to improve blood sugar levels. It is mainly used to stabilize a person's blood sugar if he/she is taking steroids or HIV treatments at the moment.

Cinnamon Bark Powder – the bark of cinnamon is used to treat GI problems such as an upset stomach, diarrhea, and flatulence. It is also used to increase appetite, take out gastrointestinal infections, parasitic worms, alleviate menstrual cramps, and treat the common cold and flu. It can also reduce the effects of eating food that is high in fat content. It can help, but it is not a foolproof solution to weight loss.

As we can see, all ingredients are 100% natural and made from nature. Honestly, even though we had a rough first step with the manufacturer, this product lives up to its claims.
