

2014 and 2015 Organic Certifier Data

Survey Background

USDA's National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) collected acreage and livestock data for years 2014 and 2015 from USDA-accredited organic certifying agents in the United States. Previously, USDA's Economic Research Service (ERS) published data from the USDA-accredited organic certifiers. Beginning in 2017, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, National Organic Program (AMS NOP) will be responsible for certified organic acreage and livestock reporting from their Organic INTEGRITY Database.

The NASS 2014 and 2015 Organic Certifier Survey includes data on certified crops and livestock operations. It does not include data from organic handlers, processors, wild crops operations, or public AUM land. Information published includes the number of certified organic operations along with the number of acres certified for various crops, and the reported livestock and poultry certified as organic.

Data Comparability

NASS and AMS NOP Data – The NASS 2014 and 2015 Organic Certifier Survey was voluntary and a response was not obtained from 100% of the certifiers. Some information received from certifiers was not complete. Livestock and poultry data was often less complete, partially due to the nature of production practices. AMS NOP data is obtained via mandatory and regulated reporting encompassing all certified farms and businesses. Data users should account for this difference when reviewing NASS and AMS NOP data.

Organic Certifier Data and NASS Organic Producer Survey/Census Data - The 2014 and 2015 Organic Certifier Survey data is a tabulation of USDA-accredited organic certifiers' acreage and livestock data received. The data underwent editing, summarization, and disclosure programming prior to publishing. The 2008, 2011, 2014, and 2015 organic producer surveys as well as the 2007 and 2012 Census of Agriculture collected and published data on organic operations which had production in the reference year. The data from these programs were adjusted for non-response, misclassification, and coverage. Therefore, the certifier survey data and producer survey/census data are not comparable and data users should account for these differences when reviewing the data. Data users should allow for differences when comparing the data between datasets including reference periods, organic definitions, and differing survey methodologies.

Data Confidentiality

The information provided is used for statistical purposes only. Responses will be kept confidential and any person who willfully discloses ANY identifiable information about person or operation is subject to a jail term, a fine, or both. This survey was conducted in accordance with the Confidential Information Protection provisions of Title V, Subtitle A, Public Law 107-347 and other applicable Federal laws.

Abbreviations and Symbols

The following abbreviations and symbols are used throughout the tables:

- Represents zero
- (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing data for individual operations.
- (NA) Not available.

1/ The four categories may not add to total acres since acres in sum of crops column includes double cropping or multi uses.

2/ United States operation count includes reports provided by the USDA-accredited certifying agents and the operation counts from the USDA Organic INTEGRITY database for the non-response certifiers.

3/ Non-response certifying agents certify operations in AZ, CA, and TX. Data may be incomplete in these states.

4/ Non-response certifier operation count from the USDA Organic INTEGRITY Database at the U.S. level.
