Unit 5 - Snippet 126

Reflective activity – What have I learned?

Reflect on your learning in this unit. Go over all your notes, and then answer the questions below:

1. Are you now able to recognize different perspectives and identify some biases you or someone else may have in regard to an issue in discussion?
2. How did you find the tasks in this module: too easy, too challenging, or just right? Which one was the most challenging?
3. What are the three most important things you now know and which you did not know at the beginning of this module?
4. How do you expect your new learning to impact your future response to information you read or hear?

Share your thoughts with your fellow students.
