

Moshe Kahn HASC founder, is an abstract painter. He started painting at the age of 7 and his skills only grew from there. In 2009, he went to New York City for a residency which led him to be offered many awards since then. Although not publicly known, Moshe's work has been appreciated by other painters in his field.

His work is colorful and vibrant because of his many years of experience with abstract art and having a wide range of artist's styles throughout his life.

Moshe Kahn is the founder of HASC (Hebrew Artists Social Community). He organizes different engaging activities, such as painting in nature.

HASC is a community of artists, who have learned and developed their skills through practice and learning from each other. They are not hung up on fame or recognition, but love the art they do because it means so much to them. He loves doing what he does - being an artist- because he loves painting.
