Wave 9 Dutch fieldwork

- From October 2021 – July 2022
- Halted in winter 2021/2022 due to Corona
- Individual response rate ~49% (note: lag in cleaning gross sample)

hh contact rate

hh cooperation rate

individual response rate

Wave 9 data release

- All countries: fieldwork ended in September 2022
- Data cleaning, quality checks, and codings will be conducted during winter 2022/2023 (cooperation between SHARE Central and Country Teams)
- Data release expected in 2023 (by SHARE Central)

Wave 10 and beyond

- Wave 10 still in CAPI, content resembles Wave 9
- Netherlands asked to participate in mode-experiment: web vs. paper&pencil survey
- Main fieldwork Wave 10 in 2024

Wave 10 and beyond

- SHARE Central coordination moves to SHARE Berlin Institute in 2022-2023
- Future vision is to follow multi-mode strategy, with more flexible frequency of surveys, administrative linkages
- Focus on objective data, retirement of babyboom, public health prevention, long-term care, inequality

Key take-aways

- Dutch sample is ageing
- New refreshment sample crucial
- Future in multi-mode approach
- Rich longitudinal data related to health
