

View this email in your browser

ARCTIC PASSION

Pan-Arctic Observing
System of Systems:
Implementing Observations
for Societal Needs

Fall 2022 Newsletter

A message from the coordinator

Dear Arctic PASSION partners and colleagues, dear interested readers!

We are happy to present our second Arctic PASSION newsletter. These past months have seen a lot of project activities pushing forward on all levels to achieve our objectives. Our first General Assembly in person at the end of June was a landmark for closer interaction within the project and with our international collaborators.

This summer we witnessed a season of intense wildfires, heat waves, an enhanced melting of the cryosphere and thawing of permafrost; which all link to our project goal to contribute to an improved Arctic environmental observing system. The pressing political and societal decisions to reduce emissions, and to cope with already ongoing climate change need a sound base, from science as well as from Indigenous and Local Knowledge.

This newsletter is intended to guide you to a number of blog entries documenting aspects of the work of our project team and also contains information on upcoming meetings with Arctic PASSION contributions. Enjoy the read and we also invite you to follow our social media channels!

Best wishes, Michael

Feedback

Introduction to our Indigenous Community partners in Unalakleet, Alaska

The Inupiaq and Yupiaq community

Arctic PASSION is following a free, prior, and informed consent process to bridge science and Indigenous Knowledge in Unalakleet, Alaska. Read more

Partner news

