2. Preparation and organization of the workshop on Student-Centered Pedagogies

2.1 Establishing the thematic, the agenda and the contents

The thematic of the workshops modules were established in July within the meetings of the Teaching & Learning Centers Network. The five days of workshops were split into two parts:

- two days in July, available only for the members of the Teaching & Learning Centers Network;

-three days in September, available for the whole academic community within the UNITA Consortium and its partners.

Within the first two days, exchanges of good practices within the Teaching & Learning Centers Network were organized, prepared by three teams formed: Team 1 - Professionalization of academic staff< Team 2 - Development of student learning and Team 3 - Technology-enhanced learning.

Each team presented a set of good practices on the specific topics. From these, the specific modules thematics were established for the three days dedicated to the whole academic community in September 2021.

The main thematics of the modules were:

2.2 Promoting the Workshop within the community

After the structure was finalized, posters and promotion materials were created and disseminated within the Unita Consortium and its partners community. A registration form was created on DataCloud.

During the promotion period, 410 teachers and administrative staff registered for participation to the workshops.

The preparation of the modules content was organized within a common effort of the members of the Teaching & Learning Centers Network, experts from all of the 6 universities participating equally to the organization efforts.

2.3 Organization of the Workshop modules on Student-Centered Pedagogies

The three workshop days offered for the whole community were organized only on the Microsoft Teams platform (due to the high number of registered participants that made the DataCloud platform unsuitable).

The three days were organized as following:
