INTRODUCTION

Today, all spheres of the life of New Uzbekistan have become a field of deep reforms. In this process, it is impossible not to talk excitedly about the changes in the education system, which is considered the basis of the social sphere. In recent years, practical work on the organization of all stages of the education system based on modern requirements has entered a decisive stage in our country. Our President noted:

"The more educated our children are, the faster the economic sectors based on high technologies will develop, and the more social problems will be solved. Therefore, if I say that the threshold of New Uzbekistan starts from the school, I think that our entire nation will support this idea."

Today, fundamental improvement of the education sector has become the demand of the time. Based on this demand, laws regulating relations in the field of education are being adopted. As a logical continuation of these ideas, we can see a number of reforms in the field of education carried out in our country. Reforms in the field of education today are no less relevant than reforms in other fields in terms of their relevance and practical importance. Because it is the need of the times to continue the reforms in this field on a larger scale. In particular, the new version of the Law of the Republic of Uzbekistan "On Education" was implemented from September 23, 2020, and its purpose is to regulate relations in the field of education. Based on this Law, the main principles, educational system, types and forms of education have been clearly defined, in accordance with the established distance education rules, students must acquire the necessary knowledge, skills and abilities from information and communication technologies (ICT) and the Internet. aimed at remote access using the information network.

LITERATURE ANALYSIS AND METHODOLOGY

In order to effectively organize the education system in our new Uzbekistan, serious attention is paid to the issue of using and introducing different approaches. In addition, the goal of our society is to achieve quality education based on the development strategy of New Uzbekistan. Here, the individual approach is one of the forms that bring us several opportunities and achievements.

The concept of "individual" is Latin and means "individually", "alone" and "special engagement". For this reason, individualized education is a form of education and research focused on a person and his specific abilities. Every learner participates in the teaching process. Because doing it individually activates learners. But one more thing should be taken into account that here it is not meant to deal with the learner one-on-one, but to deal with some aspect of it. For example, if one learner has the ability to creatively decorate various objects, or someone has the ability to speak beautifully, and someone has the ability to do scientific research, if this ability is properly nurtured, the result will certainly be very effective. ladi For this reason, individual education is a very convenient and effective way to improve knowledge.

If we talk about the importance of individual education in learning English, it should also be said that someone's ability to listen, read and understand or speak and write about the language is formed, that is, the language is it is very difficult for a student to fully master all these four directions. At such a time, the learner deals with either his strong side or his weak point of understanding. Below are some tools that are effective in learning English, how to independently listen, read, understand, write and speak.

We know that students' language skills are mainly tested on the basis of four skills:

1. Read and understand
2. Listening comprehension
3. Speaking
4. Writing

As you can see, in order to prepare for all these modules, it is necessary to follow the recommended guidelines for each one, because the exam and level of each module is the same. Or, if the majority of language learners have a strong listening comprehension, it may be difficult to improve their speaking skills. What methods should be used in such a situation?

DISCUSSION AND RESULTS

In this part of our scientific article, there are ideas on how to improve the four modules mentioned above.

In the process of reading comprehension, language learners are given texts of 3 levels of difficulty and questions are asked according to the same texts. In order for language learners to be able to pass such exams, first of all, they should have read such texts independently and have a strong worldview. The following methods are also considered to improve reading comprehension:

- it is necessary to increase vocabulary during language learning;
- asking and answering questions about the read information, that is, it helps to increase thinking about the text;
- try to quickly notice the key words of the text being read;
- write about what is read and understood;
- regularly read articles on various topics from scientific journals and similar sources.

Listening comprehension is also through different methods like reading comprehension ability is developed:

- learning the correct pronunciation of English words;
- listen to different podcasts and English talks
- learning how words are pronounced in English dialects;
- write a brief statement about the information heard;
- watch English videos, movies without subtitles.

The next module to focus on is speaking. During the exam, the examiner pays attention to the fluency of the speaker's speech, the orderliness of thoughts, grammatical correctness, the formation of worldview, the freedom of emotions while speaking and evaluates accordingly. For this reason, the speaker should practice a lot about his speech:

- the listener listens to the speech of his favorite famous person in English on the topic he is interested in;
- trying to imitate the speech, actions and emotions of this famous person;
- read a lot and increase worldview;
- talking to oneself in the mirror and not being afraid to make mistakes while speaking;

- methods such as finding a partner who knows English and likes to talk with him all the time on various topics will help language learners to improve their speaking skills.

And finally, our last module is writing. The aforementioned modules after working on it, it will be correct to move on to the ability to write. Because if you develop knowledge with the above strategies, it will not be difficult to improve the latest writing skills. Because when a question is asked, a language learner who knows how to give an exaggerating answer can undoubtedly write his opinions on various topics. Writing skills will grow naturally as a result of the given instructions, but in order to write more clearly and follow the order of thoughts when writing, it is advisable to do the following:

- writing skill is a skill that requires more knowledge than other skills. Therefore, in the first place, what should be written about, find information on that topic and read;
- read a lot of reports written by others on this topic;
- writing many reports about what was read and heard;
- using complex structures as much as possible while writing definitely forms the writing skills of language learners.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, it can be said that if every language learner learns the language if they learn step by step, that is, if they approach each module individually, the result will definitely be high. Because if attention is paid to all the modules at once, the learner's attention will not be sustained and there is a high probability of missing the information. In this respect, individual education is one of the most effective ways for every student. In general, in order to learn English, it is not necessary to adapt to the system of the organization where the exam is given, but to use ways that naturally increase the level of literacy, first of all, it is necessary to form general knowledge, and then it does not take much time to adapt to the system of the organization where the exam is given. On the contrary, if you work only on adapting to the system without forming general knowledge, this result will not be consistent with other exams, and the level of knowledge will be limited. From this point of view, the most important thing in language learning is practice. It is difficult to achieve results if the learned things are not implemented. In this place, it is very effective to deal with language learning skills individually.
