

Galactic Gazette

a blog from the staff of the Wolbach Library

Home > News > Visual Astronomy Display: November 2020

NEWS

Visual Astronomy Display: November 2020

Rebecca Tibbitts • Updated on August 24, 2022 • Leave a Comment

The Wolbach Library wishes good health to everyone during this global crisis. Happy election day!

Highlights...

- How much water is there on the Moon?
- Dr. Katie Mack's new book The End of Everything (Astrophysically Speaking) hypothesizes about the end of the universe;
- PBS SpaceTime investigates if the past and future exist;
- FermiLab dispels common myths about the Big Bang;
- Listen to Venera 14's 1982 recording of the surface of Venus!

Playlist
Archive

Suggestions, Comments, or
Questions

Author

Recent Posts

Rebecca Tibbitts

Digital Projects Assistant at Center for Astrophysics | Harvard & Smithsonian

◀ October Zooniverse Update

▶ November Zooniverse Update

Leave a Comment

Comment*

Name*

Email*

Website

Post Comment

Enter Keywords...

Archives

Select Month

Tags

ASTRONOMICAL PLATES ASTRONOMY ASTRONOMY THESIS COLLECTION CFA BIBLIOGRAPHY

CFA HISTORY CFA NEWS CULTURAL ASTRONOMY SERIES EVENTS HISTORY

METADATA METASAT ORCID PHAEDRA UNIFIED ASTRONOMY THESAURUS

VISUAL ASTRONOMY DISPLAY WOLBACH LIBRARY ZOONIVERSE