Dr Nokuthula Mchunu: Deputy Director

AOSP - EVOLUTION

African Open Science Platform (AOSP) - Vision and Strands

“African scientists are at the cutting edge of contemporary, data-intensive science as a fundamental resource for a modern society. They are innovative global exponents and advocates of Open Science and leaders in addressing African and Global Challenges.”

- ✓ Develop a federated network of computational facilities and services, software tools and advice on policies and practices of research data management,
- ✓ Develop Data Science and AI Institute spanning and embedded at African institutions,
- ✓ Promote collaboration on African priority application programmes – ranging from health, biodiversity, disaster risk reduction, agriculture and open innovation resilient cities etc.,
- ✓ Create a Network for Education and Skills in data and information,
- ✓ Create a Network for Open Science Access and Dialogue.

AOSP Goal

- ✓ Positioning African scientists at the cutting edge of data intensive science
- ✓ Stimulating interactivity
- ✓ Creating opportunity through the development of efficiencies of scale
- ✓ Building critical mass through shared capacities
- ✓ Amplifying impact through a commonality of purpose and voice.

Open Science Imperatives for Africa

- ✓ Policy
- ✓ Development of Commons to solve continental and global Challenges
- ✓ Promotion of best practices of open science Data
- ✓ Open Access/communication and assessment/reward

The Challenges

Language barriers

Low digital visibility of African scholarly output

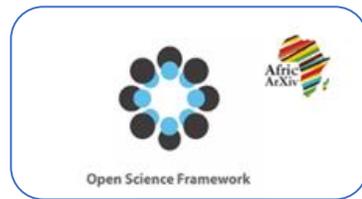

Underrepresented in Intl. research networks

Restricted access to research funding

The Solution (2018-2023)

Utilising existing digital scholarly infrastructure for research dissemination

Community Development and Outreach ORCID Grant

Afric  ArXiv

AfricArXiv – pan-African Open Access portal will establish ORCID-facilitated multi-stakeholder consortia for efficient scholarly knowledge sharing from Africa, utilizing scholarly repository systems, each with a regional and research topic/discipline-specific focus. Also integrate and advocate for the adoption of other relevant persistent identifiers—ROR in particular—for African institutional reputation building, complementing the existing institutional infrastructure.
